APPENDIX MYSTERY PARTIALLY SOLVED

Used as Funnel to Conduct Medicine to Intestines—Stomach That Saved From Bad Effects of Drugs.

Washington, March 13.—A new cure for tropical dysentery, which has carried off thousands of American soldiers in the Philippines, is being tried at Washington barracks hospital in this city, where it has met with much success as to warrant the belief that the dread oriental disease may be stamped out.

Some time ago Sergeant Mould of the engineer corps returned from the Philippines and was brought to Washington for treatment. Ordinary methods of effecting a cure proved unavailing. It was then that the new scientific treatment was tried.

Under the direction of Major Borden the man's appendix was reached by an incision through the walls of the abdomen. A gallstone operation was performed, the appendix was drawn through the opening in the body and stretched there, and was allowed to heal outside the abdominal wall.

Using the appendix much as it had been a funnel, the surgeon then flushed the patient with a quinine solution, pouring the medicine through the appendix. The quinine reached the vital organs affected without passing through the stomach.

After treatment lasting for a few days Sergeant Mould, who had been confined to his bed, was convalescent and is now able to walk, although the cure is not entirely complete. The man's appendix still remains outside his body, where it has healed in the most unnatural position, but the operation of replacing it when he is pronounced well will be a simple one.

The case is said to be the first of its kind on record, and is believed to be the only occasion for the use of the appendix in this manner. The idea is said to be the invention of Dr. Wyeth of New York, who theoretically discovered it two years ago, although he never put his theory into practice.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE NOTES

Mrs. J. E. MacMurray, of Chicago, Ill., spent several days with her daughter the last week.

Mrs. James Cox, of Quincy, Ill., spent last Sunday with her daughter.

Dr. Barker addressed the Woman's Club on "Thirty Years of Educational Progress" Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. J. E. MacMurray sang delightfully at the P. N. U. entertainment Monday night and again at chapel Tuesday morning.

Essays read in chapel last week were "Women of the Bible" by Miss Anna Marshall and "Student Organizations" by Miss Edith Phillips.

The Y. M. C. A.招待 two students from the School of Education furnished entertainment for the Woman's Christian Association at the Y. M. C. A. building Friday afternoon.

The members of the P. N. U. society gave an interesting entertainment in the chapel last Monday night. The entertainment offered was the dramatization of Dickens' "Pickwick Papers" and was a success in every way.

About thirty-five members of the Athletic Association attended the demonstration given by the classes in the Physical Training department at the School for the Deaf Friday afternoon. Miss McCully is to be congratulated on the fine results achieved under her direction.

The Athletic Association are very enthusiastic about the new gymnasium and have pledged Dr. Barker that they will raise the rest of the required $10,000 or $12,000. The association already have nearly $100 of their pledge secured, and the motto is, "The new gymnasium within a year."

Less than three years ago, each of the societies, the Belles Lettres and the Phi Nu, pledged $500 each towards society halls in the new addition to be built that year. The societies have faithfully kept their pledges, and have both made substantial payments from time to time. In addition to this they have furnished and decorated their halls making them beautiful.

The Phi Nu on Saturday morning paid their $500 pledge in full and Dr. Barker generously offered to repay the whole $500 as the beginning of a fund to build a separate society hall. Both societies are full of enthusiasm at the prospect, and there is little doubt that in a few years the campus will be adorned with a beautiful society hall.

TRAFFIC IN CHILD WIVES

Victims Practice Revealed in Report of Compulsory Education Superintendent of Chicago

Chicago, March 13.—Girls ranging in age from 12 to 16 years have been sold as wives to men much older than themselves in Chicago. This condition was revealed yesterday in a report by Superintendent Lester W. Bodine, of the compulsory education department of the school board.

Not only has this traffic in child wives been carried on among Italians and Slovaks, but it has been found to exist among native Americans.

"As a result of the disclosures I have recommended to the legislative committee of the Cook County child welfare league to have the state law regarding the legal age of marriage amended so that no girl under 18 years of age may marry, even should she have the consent of her parents," said Superintendent Bodine.

"It seems as easy to secure a marriage license now as it is a dog license. The lax marriage license law is at fault. The schools of Chicago are being robbed of children of tender age, whose parents consent to their marriage."

Superintendent Bodine has discovered under the legal marriage age of 18 years (for females) have been married, supposedly, with the consent of parents, to husbands, whose ages range from boys of 18 to men in the forties. During the past year many girls, whose ages vary from 14 to 16, were married. No proof of age was submitted in any instance, except the affidavit filed by the applicant for license, who was generally the prospective groom or a friend.

Superintendent Bodine and Marriage License Clerk Salmonson both declared their belief that many of these girls were not as old as the ages given in the application.

"Second: It is my will that, after the payment of my just debts and funeral expenses, all the rest of the money I may have on hand, or deposited in bank, and all debts that may be owing to me and also the following described real estate, to-wit: The west half (1/2) of the southwest quarter (1/4) of section nine (9), in township fifteen (15), north and range eleven (11), west of the third (3rd) principal meridian, in the county of Morgan and state of Illinois, and also the southeast quarter (1/4) of the southwest quarter (1/4) of said section, township and range, shall be equally divided between my five following named children, to-wit: William T. Rawlings, Mary E. Stout, James A. Thomson, Allison Thomson and Charles Thomson, to share equally and alike therein; but if any of said children should depart this life prior to my death, I direct that the share of such deceased child shall be equally divided between the children of such deceased child to share and share alike.

"Third: I hereby appoint my son, Charles Thomson, sole executor and request that he shall not be required to give any bond as such executor.

"This will bears date of March 11, 1902, and the witnesses were M. T. Layman and William W. Gillham.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Little George Mathews celebrated his fourth birthday Monday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mathews, on West College street. Nice refreshments added to the happiness of the visitors and all hoped to be invited to several more affairs of the same kind.

SUNDAY SERVICES AT CENTENARY

Sermon by Presiding Elder Scrimger in the Morning and eloquent Discourse by Dr. J. T. McFarland in the Evening.

The auditorium of Centenary church was filled Sunday morning to hear the sermon by Dr. Scrimger, which was based on Acts of the Apostles, first chapter and eighth verse, "We shall receive power after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you." He said in part:

"One-third of the world is now nominally Christian. One-half believes in one God. Religious organizations were never so thorough and never so well equipped. The multiplication of machinery demands greater power to run it since no machinery runs itself. The power of the Christian world is the Holy Spirit. Without that power, in supply the church fails in its mission. At Pentecost that power came. He, the Holy Ghost, had been in the world before, but not in fullness of power. 1. Everyone in true conversion receives Him in some degree, and that degree may produce at the time of conversion sanctification. 2. Everyone in sanctification receives Him. In this state two elements are apparent. First, the sinward tendency in the person is broken. He may yet sin, for Adam even sinned; second, the increase of power with men. 3. The results of this baptism of power were considered under five words, viz: Baptism, as at time of Pentecost, the pouring out upon the subject; Filled, the word expressive of inbreathing of the Holy Spirit; Anointed, special baptism of the spirit for service; Seal, God's ownership mark placed upon His people, and Pledge, which is both prophecy and sign of victory."

The sermon was well received. The sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered to a large communion.

At night an audience that filled the galleries, rather to hear Dr. J. T. McFarland, of New York city. The people were not disappointed. The text was taken from John's gospel, fourth chapter and thirty-fifth verse. His subject was "Ripened Fields Ready for Harvest." With eloquence and power peculiar to himself, the preacher presented the truth of the scripture chosen under the following heads: 1. The Greatness of the Harvest. 2. The Urgency of It. 3. The Value of It. This he illustrated and enforced by showing: (1) man's investment in wheat field harvests, which must be cared for or values go out of them; (2) God's investment in this harvest of human souls as shown in creative work, and second in redemptive work of Jesus Christ. 4. The psychological moment for harvest. God in His own way both directly and through human agency, ripens the mind and prepares it for the gospel truth. This thought was beautifully and pathetically illustrated by an incident in the preacher's own pastorate in this city in connection with the conversion and salvation of a prominent West State street citizen who a few months afterward died in the faith. "He closed with a powerful plea to the church to enter upon the harvest. The business of the church does not rest that, whatever else it may do, fails of its mission. The singing of Mr. Scott was a delightful feature of these services."

WONDERFUL FISHING

Joseph Tomlinson writes his son, Doris, of this city, of a wonderful fishing "at" Carolina Island, Cal., where Mr. Tomlinson and Mr. Capps are now enjoying a visit. Mr. Tomlinson said he hooked a fish weighing thirty-five pounds and the work of playing it and getting it up to the boat were enough for the boat hooks was harder than sawing wood, but he meant to have his picture taken with the prize, attach thereto an affidavit embracing the foregoing facts, and have all sent home.

DISCRIMINATING LADIES

Major Using Herpicide on Account of Its Discriminateness.

The ladies who have used Newbro's Herpicide speak of it in the highest terms, for its quick effect in cleaning the scalp of dandruff and also for its excellence as a general hair dressing. It makes the scalp feel fresh and it allows that itching which dandruff will cause. Newbro's Herpicide effectively cures dandruff, as it destroys the germ that causes it. The same germ causes hair to fall out, and later, baldness. In killing it, Herpicide stops falling hair and prevents baldness. It is also an ideal hair dressing, for it lends an aristocratic charm to the hair, that is quite distinctive. Sold by leading druggists. OFFENSIVE CATARRH

I suffered for a long time with a bad case of Catarrh, and took a great deal of medicine without any benefit.

I had a continual headache, my chest had given up, my nose was always stopped up, my breath was sickening and disgusting odor, and I coughed incessantly. I heard of your S. S. S. and wrote you. I commenced to use it, and after taking several bottles I was cured and have never since had the slightest symptom of the disease. Miss Mary L. Strick, Cor. 9th & Fifth St., St. Joseph, Mo.

Wheeling, W. Va., May 29, 1903.

I had Nasal Catarrh for years for which I used S. S. S. with very gratifying results. I tried local applications for some time, and getting no permanent relief I came to the conclusion that the seat of the trouble was in the blood. Knowing S. S. S. to be a good blood medicine I began its use, and after using it for some little while it did away entirely with the offensive mucus in the nostrils, and I did not have to hawk and spit, especially in the morning, to dislodge the catarrhal matter.

GRAND JUBILEE

The High School and Eighth Grade Celebrate the Victory at Springfield

As all the readers of the Journal are aware, the Jacksonville high school debating team, Miss Miller, Messrs. Weber and Butler, won a signal victory over the Springfield team last Friday. Of course something extra had to be done to celebrate properly such an event, so Monday morning the mayor, board of education and a number of friends were invited to the auditorium to participate in the glad event. The high school orchestra also gladly lent aid in making the occasion what it should be by rendering superb music and the enthusiasm of the pupils fairly made the walls of the building echo and the rafters shake as cheer after cheer rent the air. For the time the principal kindly let discipline go to the winds and permitted the young merry-makers to exercise their lungs to their hearts' content and they were not slow in availing themselves of the opportunity. Cheers, school yells, songs and calls made the echoes ring and hardly could the pupils restrain themselves even while persons were speaking. The eighth grade had been invited to participate in the gladness of the occasion and they were almost as full of enthusiasm as the members of the high school. It was indeed an event long to be remembered and it was a pleasure to the writer at least that it was an intellectual victory. Not that he would disparage athletics, but that he would place mental culture far above the other and give it great preference. It is impossible to portray fully the full program and all attendant features of the morning. As well try to report the explosion of a bomb or describe the over-excitement of a champagne bottle when uncorked; suffice to say the whole thing was simply immense. The orchestra supplied several excellent numbers, which added greatly to the pleasure of the occasion and delighted all present. Principal Glasgow made the first address of the morning and it was full of zeal for the school and rejoicing over the signal victory secured by fair means. He ardently congratulated the young people on what they had accomplished and hoped it would be an earnest of greater things to come.

Mayor Davis was then introduced and received, with loud and prolonged applause. He has ever shown himself the earnest and capable friend of the public schools and has gladly done all in his power to promote their interests and hence he was accepted as one of the well wishers of the young people and one of their best friends. He expressed himself much pleased with the outcome of the contest and hoped it would inspire in all the members of the school a desire to do still better in the future. It would never do to rest secure on laurels already won, for that would mean stagnation and loss of progress. The victory was sweet because too the opponent was a foe worthy of the steel of good fighters. It was won away from home too, which had something to do with the glory of it, for it was always easier to speak at home than in a strange place. It had manifested what the pupils of the Jacksonville high school could do and he felt certain it meant great progress in the future. The young people of Jacksonville would always have his best wishes and most ardent efforts in aiding them to accomplish all that was possible for their best welfare.

The speech was received with deafening applause, after which speeches were the order of the occasion. The courtesy of the Springfield pupils and all connected with the affair in the capital city was mentioned; the good number accompanying from Jacksonville was dwelt on with pleasure, several puns were made on the names of Springfield contestants; the zeal with which the visitors from this city greeted the home team; the splendid personality of the Jacksonville debaters; the fine manner in which the arguments were presented; the fact that the home speakers had the unpopular side of the question; the great inspiration it would be for harder work in the future; the importance of being able to express one's self in public; the value to be derived from all such occasions; the superiority of mental over athletic victories; these and various other themes and phases of the incident were dwelt upon by the various speakers who followed. Only a small number had been regularly placed on the program, but the pupils were having their day in court and loudly demanded something from several others and they had their way quite thoroughly. The speakers after the mayor were S. W. Nichols, Prof. Webster, Member Obermeyer, Miss Sewall, teacher, the members of the debating team, Miss Miller and Messrs. Weber and Butler, then of the teachers, Messrs. Brown and White, Mr. Moore, Misses Kent, Kuechler and Thornbrow, Mrs. Koch, Misses Hamilton and Casky.

This ended the list and to the surprising notes of the march rendered in the usual skillful manner by the orchestra the eighth grade went to their rooms and the high school pupils to their places and the end came with more applause.

THE BIRTH RECORD.

Born, Saturday, to Mr. and Mrs. G. Postley, on North Sandy street, a boy.

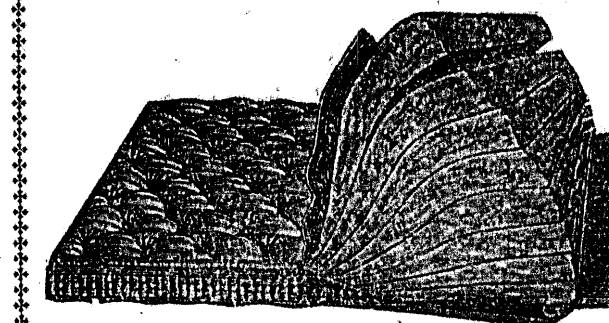

The Good Effect of Good Clothes.

The story is told of a certain society lady that whenever she felt depressed or gloomy, she would array herself in her most expensive finery, and, presto! gloom took wing and the sunshine of good cheer entered in its place. This woman knew that the members of her sex are always in a happy frame of mind when they are exceedingly well dressed, and reasoning backward, she drew up this law: "If you have the Blues, dress up." The thought may seem far-fetched to some at first glance, but look at it from another point of view and it will not appear so. Haven't you, dear reader, bought a garment that seemed to fit your desires as well as your figure, only to discover in a few days that your judgment had misled you? That the garment had lost all its glamor and didn't fit so well as you thought? And what was the effect on you? Surely a depression of spirits, a loss of cheer—a case of the blues. That is the natural effect—if one is human. On the other hand, you may have bought a garment of beauty that proved to be a joy even unto the day when it was replaced by a newer style. The effect of such a garment was to gladden your heart with a happiness that came fresh every day. It is reasonable to suppose that the maker of a garment that so fully met your desires IS THE ONE to do so again, and so you look for a certain label or brand or mark that identifies the product. It is by this process that the WORTH SKIRT became a name to conjure with. The WORTH SKIRT has always reflected an admirable blending of fit and beauty—an irreproachable mastery of style. Its lines are so firm and sure as to spell dignity and it fits the figure so faultlessly as to become a gracious harmony of all beholders. The satisfaction of a gracefully rounded figure and the distinguished bearing produced by a WORTH SKIRT is revealed by the wearer in the sparkle of the eye and the buoyancy of the step—so easily are we influenced. The COMFORT derived by the wearer of a WORTH SKIRT makes it doubly delightful and the REASONABLE PRICE deserves more than perfunctory notice.

The drawing on this page is an actual reproduction of one of the popular Worth Skirts for spring. We are exclusive selling agents.

TWO OPEN LETTERS

IMPORTANT TO MARRIED WOMEN
Mrs. Mary Dimmick of Washington tells how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made her well.

It is with great pleasure we publish the following letters, as they convincingly prove the claim we have so many times made in our columns that Mrs.

Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., is fully qualified to give helpful advice to sick women. Read Mrs. Dimmick's letters.

Her first letter:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—
"I have been a sufferer for the past eight years with a trouble which first originated from painful menstruation—the pains were excruciating, with inflammation and ulceration of the womb. The doctor says I must have an operation or I cannot live. I do not want to submit to an operation if I can possibly avoid it. Please help me!"—Mrs. Mary Dimmick, Washington, D. C.

Her second letter:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—
"You will remember my condition when I last wrote you, and the doctor said I must have an operation or I could not live. I received your kind letter and followed your advice very carefully and am now entirely well. As my case was so serious it seems a miracle that I am cured. I know that I owe not only my health but my life to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and to your advice. I can walk and ride without an ache or pain, and I wish every suffering woman would read this letter and realize what you can do for them."—Mrs. Mary Dimmick, 50th and East Capitol Streets, Washington, D. C.

How easy it was for Mrs. Dimmick to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., and how little it cost her—a two-cent stamp. Yet how valuable was the reply! As Mrs. Dimmick says—it saved her life.

Mrs. Pinkham has on file thousands of just such letters as the above, and offers ailing women helpful advice.

HAIR!

I allow my picture published for the benefit of any one who may be annoyed with dandruff. My head was simply covered with it, and my hair was falling out. I was advised by my doctor to try GERM-A-KILA HAIR TONIC. I did, and since I have used the tonic, my hair has grown and as to my hair, it shows for itself. I shall never be without a bottle of GERM-A-KILA HAIR TONIC. Mrs. M. Allen, 142 West Ohio Street, Chicago.

I make this sworn statement for the benefit of other people who are bald or getting that way. I have been bald for 14 years and on the 14th of July one year ago I commenced the use of GERM-A-KILA HAIR TONIC. My hair is growing and as to my hair, it shows for itself. I shall never be without a bottle of GERM-A-KILA HAIR TONIC. I noticed a new growth of hair.

People addressing me will please inclose stamp for answer. August Frederick Schultz, 380 One Street, Milwaukee, Wis. Does your head itch? If so, this germ is lurking in your scalp. This germ you see here is 25,000 times its natural size. However, this is just as it looks under a powerful microscope. It can be found on any scalp that has dandruff. Some people have as many as two or three thousand of these germs on their heads. GERM-A-KILA HAIR TONIC destroys this germ and causes the hair to grow; besides cures any case of dandruff, stops the hair falling out in a very short time. Put in 10c bottles only. This bottle is as large as most dollar bottles. We give no free samples. 50-cent bottle will show for itself. Address all mail orders to the GERM-A-KILA MEDICINE CO., Milwaukee, Wis. ANY DRUGGIST CAN ORDER IT FOR YOU IF HE HAS NOT GOT IT.

COWBOYS AT INAUGURAL

Plan of Frontiersmen to Honor President Roosevelt.

WILL RIDE THEIR OWN PONIES

Captain Seth Bullock of Deadwood, S. D., Will Lead the Westerners in the Great Parade—"Tex" Burgess, Among Notables Who Will Attend the Inauguration.

A band of genuine western cow punchers—men who have rounded up the herd, "hog tied" and "cut out" big steers, "busted" bronchos, ridden down and conquered outlaws and braved many a storm and spent many a cheerless night astride their cayuses—are going to Washington in March to take part in the parade at the inauguration of President Roosevelt, says a dispatch from Deadwood, S. D.

With them will go a liberal sprinkling of western characters who, strictly speaking, are not to be classed as cow punchers, but who are closely allied to them, and, admiring the president, wish to join them in giving him a "send off" on the day he is to become chief executive of the nation by commission of the people.

Captain Seth Bullock, one of the best known characters in the west and a warm friend and admirer of President Roosevelt, is gathering the cow punchers together for the journey to Washington. He promises to take with him to the national capital the most representative crowd of westerners that ever took part in a public function. President Roosevelt, himself a ranchman and cow puncher at one time, has signified his desire that these representatives of the wild, free life he loves so well shall grace the inaugural parade.

"The men are not only going to wear the conventional cowboy's apparel, but they are going to ride their cayuses (ponies) in the parade as well. They will be under the command of Captain Bullock, who, while giving them a sufficient license and measure of liberty to insure their riding naturally, will hold them to a strict accountability for their deportment.

He declares that he will tolerate no foolishness on their part, and they all understand that the former frontier scout and former marshal of Deadwood, the man who in the early days was a terror to all the bad men in the hills, will see to it that what he says "goes."

Captain Bullock expects to take fifty men and ponies to Washington. He could take 150 if it were practicable to accommodate that number, for nearly every cow puncher in the region about Deadwood wishes to go.

"The men will gather at Belle Fourche and start for Washington from there. It is estimated that the trip will cost each man approximately $30. Most of the men, they say, are going to try to sell their ponies in Washington to cut down the expense of the journey.

"Deadwood Dick," the once famous scout, bandit hunter and leader of "the shotgun men" who guarded the Wells Fargo express treasure coach from the Black Hills to civilization a quarter of a century ago, is one of the well known western characters who will go with the cow punchers to Washington. "Tex" Burgess, king of the cowboys on the big Hyannis range in Nebraska, is another. Captain Seth Bullock, "Deadwood Dick" and "Tex" Burgess constitute a trio that alone would be worth traveling 2,000 miles to see in an inaugural parade.

Doubtless thousands of persons who know of "Deadwood Dick's" career on the frontier in the days when Deadwood was the wildest mining camp in the world and lawlessness reigned throughout this region are of the impression that the once famous scout and bandit hunter is dead, while thousands of others believe there never was such a character outside a yellow backed novel, but there is a "Deadwood Dick," and if any one has a doubt of it, he may dispel it by going to Lead, the location of the big Home state mine, five miles north of Deadwood, where Dick is a workman in plain blue overalls in the Northwestern railroad yards. After the red border days Dick laid aside his Sharp rifle, his brace of revolvers and his buckskin suit, and donning the garb of civilization, engaged in railroad work. For several years he has been a yardman in Lead.

Burgess, who is going to ride his cayuse all the way from Nebraska to South Dakota to join the cow punchers' party, is an ardent admirer of President Roosevelt. "You bet I am going," said he. "I wouldn't miss it for $1,000. We all want to go," but Captain Bullock says he can't accommodate all of us, so some will have to stay at home. We are all tickled at Teddy's invitation. It shows that he thinks a cow puncher is as good as anybody else, so long as he behaves himself, and you bet we will behave ourselves. Teddy is all right. He used to be one of us, and he ain't ashamed to recognize us now just because he is president. We are going down to Washington to give him a good sendoff."

Men's Outfitters Club.

With the declaration that they are shocked at the indulgence of their neighbors in profanity, fifty men of Waterbury, Conn., are reported to have recently formed, the "Outfitters club." Among the members are several merchants, says a Waterbury dispatch. A saloon keeper also is on the roster. The society purposes to stop if possible the use in Waterbury of all bad language.

A VISION OF HEAVEN.

Mrs. Doane's Description of It Just Before His Death.

Since the death of Mr. George H. Doane, rector of St. Patrick's cathedral in Newark, N. J., and prothonotary apostolic, a few days ago while sitting in his favorite armchair in his study whisperings have been rife concerning a strange and prophetic vision the aged prelate had on the night before the final summons, says the New York Press. The story was recently told by an intimate friend, Philip Henley of Newark, who said:

"In the week of Jan. 10 my boy Willie, fourteen years old, was very ill. One night we thought he was dying and sent to the rectory of St. Patrick's for a priest. None was there except Mr. Doane, who had been for a long time a personal friend of mine and was very fond of the boy. It was almost midnight, and a severe snowstorm was raging, but he hurried to my home.

"The boy lived almost a week and was buried on Jan. 19. The monsignor called at the house the following day, and he took me to one side after he had talked with me and my wife for a short time and said in a manner I shall never forget:

"Philip, something very strange happened to me last night. I shall tell you, but perhaps you had better not tell Mrs. Henley just now. I had a vision, in which I seemed to be in heaven, talking to your son. I am not certain whether I was asleep or awake. I seemed to be in a place that was all light and music."

"Then the monsignor paused, and suddenly I saw by his face what the vision meant. I was overcome with emotion. I would have fallen to the floor if he had not put his arm around me and supported me. There were tears in his eyes too.

"Above all the sounds of music," he went on, "I heard the voice of Willie, clear and strong. It said: 'Oh, monsignor, are you with us so soon? This is a beautiful place, and we are all so happy, for there is nothing to do but to sing and to listen to the sweetest music. How are my papa and mamma? I hope they are well. You must stay with us, monsignor. We want you here, for we are all so happy.' I answered that papa and mamma were well, and I told him I could not remain with him, however much I might wish to do so. He urged me again to stay or return soon, and then he led me through the glorious spaces and to the throne of God. I cannot tell you what it was like, for no words could picture that grandeur."

"Four hours afterward I learned he was dead."

GIRL HORSEBACK PREACHER

Miss Cora Pinkney to Ride Over Laurel Hill Mountains.

Licensed by the United Brethren church as a missionary, Miss Cora Pinkney announced recently that she will ride through the fastnesses of Saltlick and other townships of the Laurel Hill mountains, in Pennsylvania, preaching to the natives of this remote section, says a special dispatch from Connelville, Pa., to the New York Press. Like the pioneer circuit riders who first brought the gospel to the western slope of the Alleghenies, she will hold open air meetings and will preach from the steps of country stores, from stumps in the forest and in the rude little churches that dot the mountain regions.

The United Brethren church, for which Miss Pinkney will work, has a large following in the section of the mountains through which she will preach, and it is hoped by the authorities of the church to add materially to their following through the young woman's efforts. Miss Pinkney is the daughter of John H. Pinkney, a wealthy farmer of Mill Run, and at first it was her ambition to become a schoolteacher. After her thoughts turned to religion she announced her determination to become a mountain missionary.

"Japan's Big Bank Deposits." Seventy per cent of the Japanese expenditures in the present war with Russia remain in Japan, and as a result the deposits in the banks of the island kingdom are larger than they have ever been before," said Franklin B. Morse, son of the first American consul to Osaka, to a Washington Post reporter. "The working of this is simple and accounts for present conditions in Japan. The Japanese army lives on rice and fish. The government has given its orders for these provisions to the farmers and fishermen of Japan, who, when they receive the money, deposit it in bank, mostly when a national loan is called for, are prepared to loan the government the very money that they have been paid. Add to this the fact that all the powder used by the Japanese in the field is manufactured at home, and it is evident why there is but 30 per cent left to go out of the country."

Fish Hospital at Vienna. The Frankfort (Germany) News states that since the beginning of the winter there has been a station for research and observation of sick fish has been established at Vienna, under the direction of Professor Dr. Fiebigler. Officials of this institution will investigate the biology and pathology of fish. One of the main objects of the researches will be to study whether certain diseases of fish are transmitted to man, and if so to what extent. The scientific diagnosis of the sick fish is aimed at each compartment containing them. Fishes are to be found suffering from smallpox and others from intestinal catarrh. A dolphin was brought to the institute with a disease which was diagnosed as inflammation of the lungs.

Pugilistic Financiers.

"Frenzied finance has struck the ring," says Bob Edgar. "All the fighters are talking big money. Instead of speaking in low and reverent whispers of $300 or $500, as of yore, boxers cast off flippant remarks about their thousands and tens of thousands, of certified checks and fabulous side bets.

"Clack Ball started the thing going with his offer to get Fitzsimmons and O'Brien $25,000 for a fight in Panama. 'Fitz let out a war whoop, ending in a demand for a $5,000 side bet and challenging Jack O'Brien to accept it, at the same time saying that his money was on the way—somewhere. 'Jack O'Brien announced that his money would go up at once, the next day.

"Later 'Philadelphia Jack,' wearing a paddock coat, flourishing a gold headed cane, glittering like the sun from his diamond horseshoe, to his diamond finger tips, made a speech in the ring before the Attell-Murphy fight. 'Gentlemen,' said Jack, 'I want it understood that I am ready to fight Fitzsimmons at any time and bet him anything from $5,000 to $10,000 on the side, and I'll bet my own money too.' 'Hurrah! Hurrah!'

YOUNG MEN ATTEND CHURCH SERVICES

Jacksonville of the Present Does Not Suffer in Comparison With Jacksonville of the Past as a City Where Morality and Religion Are Regarded.

Silent and alone it stands, the beacon light of civilization sublime. In its grandeur and in the lesson it teaches, it bids the passerby look up and points its finger to the realms above where things abide. Where it has gone others have not feared to follow. Established in a wilderness, it now looks down upon a busy mart of trade and sees a material splendor that owes its greatness to its presence. Its message has ever been peace and its perpetuation means exceeding joy. ♦ ♦ ♦ ♦ ♦
No greatness is true without it, nothing is too great for it. Let us reverence it in the present and may generations yet unborn find in it that abiding inspiration that shall lead them onward and upward, higher and higher. May it be as enduring as the flag it protects. ♦ ♦ ♦ ♦ ♦

Statistics were secured Sunday, showing the attendance of young men between the ages of 15 and 35, who were present at either the morning or Sunday evening services held in the various churches of the city. The statistics were not as complete as desired, but an average taken from four of the leading denominations of the city showed gratifying results and evidenced the fact that a large number of the younger generation hold in high regard things spiritual and eternal. In one church 175 young men between the above ages were counted in the pews at the morning service and 200 at the evening service. At another church, with a smaller membership, seventy-five was the number at the morning service and fifty at the evening service. Statistics will not be multiplied, but it is a subject for congratulation that in this city, which has been known for its schools and churches and for a high moral tone that has ever been maintained, such a large proportion of young people, those who are in the midst of life's greatest activities have the disposition and take advantage of the opportunity to feed their spiritual natures while they are also providing for the wants and strenuous demands of what has been termed a commercialized age.

On the date of the opening visiting brethren from Virden, Girard, Litchfield, Havana, Springfield, Canton, Decatur and Peoria, are expected to be present. The celebration and entertainment will be in charge of the following committee: Thomas W. Allen, chairman; Thomas Endsley, Harry Herrington, John Hicks, Henry Everts and Robert Howard.

BRAVE ACT OF WOMAN

Int-uder Held at Bay With Revolver—Two Shots Fired But Bullets Failed of Mark—Alone With Infant Child at the Time

Saturday evening about 9 o'clock, Mrs. R. K. DeFreitas, who resides about a mile and a half out of the city on North Main street, at the place commonly known as the "Clover Leaf Dairy," was startled by seeing the face of a man peeping in at the north window of her home. She was sitting in the dining room rocking a baby to sleep at the time. She immediately put the little one in the cradle and started to go out into the kitchen to lock the door, but before she could reach the door the intruder had entered and was standing in the room facing her.

He asked her for something to eat, but she told him that she had nothing to give him at that time of the night. He then told her to give him some money, but she said she had no money for him either. The man then began scolding and started toward her. Her husband had left a 38-calibre revolver lying on the table and she picked this up and levelled it at him, at the same time telling him to leave the house. He replied: "I will make you eat that," and backed toward the door. When he had stepped out on the porch she fired one shot at him, but the missile failed of its mark. The intruder started to run and Mrs. DeFreitas fired again, but the man kept on running and it is supposed that he escaped injury.

Mrs. DeFreitas then called and Charles Sperry, who resides across the road, came running over to the DeFreitas residence, accompanied by George Fernandez. Mrs. DeFreitas told the men what had happened and they telephoned to her husband, who was then engaged in doing some shopping in the Seeburger clothing store. He immediately started for home and found his wife considerably frightened over the incident, as were all of the neighbors.

Mrs. DeFreitas described the man as being middle aged and wearing a brown suit of clothes, smooth shaven, light complexioned, wearing a cap, and about five feet and a half in height.

Mrs. DeFreitas certainly displayed great courage and her presence of mind was most fortunately and effectively shown.

The first prize, the dandy Buck's Junior Range, was won by Genevieve Schy. The second prize, the hand painted cup and saucer, was won by Beulah Smith. The third prize, the pretty picture, was won by Ha Weatherford.

HERE ARE THE "TEN REASONS WHY" THAT WON FIRST PRIZE

- 1st. Because Buck's Ranges are made with the best material that can be procured, as all the covers and top of stove are made of the best grey iron, which is the strongest and most durable for stoves and ranges, and the tops are made in sections, which allows for expansion and contraction.
- 2d. Because Buck's Ranges are made by the most skilled and experienced workmen.
- 3d. Because Buck's Ranges are full and heavy nickel plated, which makes them very beautiful and attractive in appearance.
- 4th. Because Buck's Ranges have white enameled oven doors and racks, which makes them very easy to keep in neat and clean and which also retards and reflects the heat.
- 5th. Because Buck's Ranges are lined throughout with heavy sheets of asbestos, which retains the heat inside the range, which makes it bake quick and even and which would otherwise be lost by radiation.
- 6th. Because Buck's Ranges have genuine duplex grates by which the can burn hard coal or wood and also has a hot blast fire box which admits air through the sides and bottom grate and lining which makes the most perfect combustion for coal and also keeps the lining from burning out and saves one-third of the fuel.
- 7th. Because Buck's Ranges have extra large enameled reservoir with flush top, which gives one-third more room on top of range.
- 8th. Because Buck's Ranges have extra large steel ash pan, with a built in which will hold all the ashes made in 24 hours' use; the damper rod is so protected that it will not ward or burn out; the fuel pouch is the very largest and cleanest and most convenient made.
- 9th. Because Buck's Ranges have a nice large warming closet, with roll top, which gives full opening when open and also ten shelves on back for holding tea pot and plates.
- 10th. Because Buck's Ranges are sold under a positive guarantee by the Buck's stove and Range company to be perfect in every way and give the very best satisfaction if the Range is set to a chimney which is not defective.

THESE "TEN REASONS WHY" WON SECOND PRIZE

- 1st. Every user of a "Buck's" range enthusiastically recommends it to all their friends. If they were not everything that they were claimed to be they would have been found out.
- 2d. It is really a "thing of beauty," therefore must be a "joy forever," as it is made of the most durable material.
- 3d. The arrangement of the oven is far superior to that of any other range, as it not only keeps the heat in, but also reflects it, thus doubling its value. The white enamel lining gives its cleanliness and purity.
- 4th. The oven is so ventilated as to make it bake more evenly. It is so enameled as to make it sanitary, clean and satisfactory, also a money saving oven.
- 5th. It is so braced as to prevent deflection and give strength to the key plates. It also has an arch which is used where great strength is needed.
- 6th. It has a lining of asbestos, which holds the heat in the oven, thus preventing it from being lost in radiating into the room. The same lining is used for burning both wood and coal.
- 7th. The firebox has a hot blast lining, which holds the heat, and in that way saving 32-33 per cent less fuel than any other range made.
- 8th. The chimney draft is so arranged as to prevent the gas from being forced up the flue before it is consumed and in that way saving fuel.
- 9th. The reservoir is extra large and strong. It is white enamel and has much greater capacity than others. The top also is flush with the range top, giving a greater space for setting vessels and etc.
- 10th. "Buck's" has an extra large ash pan which has only to be emptied once a day; ash guards are so placed over the pan that all ashes are forced into pan, instead of the bottom of range.

THESE "TEN REASONS WHY" WON THIRD PRIZE

- 1st. The "Buck's" Range is a handsome piece of kitchen furniture and so much better than all other ranges.
- If you want to see a stove with fame Go to Andre & Andre's and see a "Buck's" Range. They will please you so that tongue cannot tell shelves being attached in your kitchen and tiled very well.
- 2d. The "Buck's" Stoves and Ranges are made from the best of material, so attractive in appearance, with its nickeling and graceful style, it pleases one more every time they look at it. All top covers and entire pieces are made in sections to allow for expansion and contraction.
- "Buck's" Ranges are money savers for the reason they burn less fuel than any other range. As all the gas is consumed by the use of ventilated linings and heavy sheets of asbestos the heat is retained and radiates the heat into the oven instead of the room.
- 4th. The large white enameled ovens are so simple and easy to keep clean, bakes pastries evenly, and doesn't wilt away by being and not sink or lose flavor, which means a really self-baster, as a name for the "Buck's" oven. Enough cannot be said in praise of them.
- 5th. The warming closet on the "Buck's" Ranges are worth so much. It is so easy to get at, can always be kept clean and the shelves being attached to keep tea or coffee pots on. What a pleasure for a delayed one to come in and find their meals warming keeping them in the large ovens that are placed so handy on the "Buck's" Ranges.
- 6th. Any one who wants hot water at any hour should have "Buck's" Ranges, as they are provided with water heaters either straight on, L-shaped and can be connected to a pressure boiler. The water heating capacity should please any housewife, and they are also provided with large white enameled reservoir for hot water where the boiler attachment cannot be had.
- 7th. The "Buck's" Ranges are so nicely fitted with ash pans that it saves great annoyance to the one who has the ashes to empty, for they are large and hold all burned for 24 hours instead of having to be emptied twice a day. And the ashes are forced in the pan by a steel guard instead of the ash pit or on the floor when the door is opened.
- 8th. The grates in the "Buck's" Ranges are genuine, burn either soft or hard coal or wood if desired by reversing the bottom grate. All with so much ease and no wasted time for changing linings and grates.
- 9th. The damper handles are so protected that the rod is not heated and will not warp and get out of order, in fact the "Buck's" Ranges are so constructed with their asbestos and white enameled linings and their beautiful decoration of nickel plating and so easy kept cleaned and polished that it should give our mamma and all other ladies much pleasure to cook on such a stove as the famous "Buck's" Ranges.
- 10th. Last of all, is the recommendation that the "Buck's" Ranges received from all users and the guarantee and warranty that the company gives who has put the best and most reasonable priced stoves and ranges before the public for fifty-eight years should convince any mamma, lady or gentleman that "Buck's" Range is the one to purchase in preference to all others.
